Huisheng Xie DVM, PhD Founder and President of Chi University

Dr. Xie has 35+ years clinical, teaching and research experience in veterinary acupuncture and TCVM. He has trained over 10,000 veterinarians to practice TCVM worldwide. Dr. Xie's education includes advanced training in veterinary Medicine, veterinary acupuncture, and human acupuncture. Author of more than 20 books and over 100 peer-reviewed veterinary medical journal papers, Dr. Xie continues to teach and develop educational courses and programs at the Chi Institute, serves as a clinical professor at UF's College of Veterinary Medicine, and is an honorary professor and director of the International Institute of Traditional Chinese Veterinary Medicine of South China Agricultural University and China Southwest University.

Lorena Lloret Nadal DVM, CVA, CVBMA, CVFT, CVCH, CVTP Director of Chi Europe

Dr. Lloret received her DVM from Murcia University in Spain in June 2002. In 2005, she earned her veterinary acupuncture certification from the Chi Institute (now Chi University) and the University of Chiang Mai in Thailand, where she met Dr. Xie. In 2006, she completed the University of Florida Acupuncture Internship program with Dr. Xie. In December 2014, Dr. Lloret became the chief of the TCVM Service of the veterinary teaching hospital of the University Alfonso X in Madrid, Spain, where she offers TCVM clinical service for small animals and horses, as well as offering TCVM as a complementary treatment to veterinary clinics throughout Madrid. Dr. Lloret is the translator and editor-in-chief of the Spanish edition of TCVM: Fundamental Principles by Dr. Xie. She is the director of Chi Europe in Madrid, Spain, where she is also one of the primary instructors.

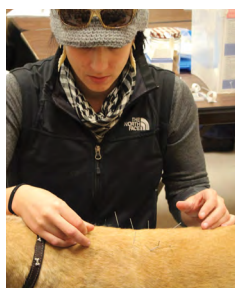

Roger Clemmons DVM, PhD, DACIVM (Neurology and Neurosurgery), CVA, CVFT

Dr. Clemmons received a DVM from Washington State University, as well as a PhD in veterinary science (emphasis in neurophysiology and clinical neurology). Dr. Clemmons then took a faculty position at University of Florida's College of Veterinary Medicine where he practiced neurology and neurosurgery for 35 years before joining the Veterinary Specialty Hospital of Palm Beach Gardens, FL. Dr. Clemmons, a board-certified specialist in Neurology, has published over 100 peer-reviewed original studies, papers and abstracts and has presented in the US and abroad. At UF, he had an active research program and is known for his work on platelet physiology and the study of neurodegenerative diseases such as degenerative myelopathy. He has developed a number of innovative neurosurgical techniques including fixation of atlantoaxial subluxation and Wobbler's syndrome. Dr. Clemmons earned certifications from Chi in acupuncture (2000) and food therapy (2009). He speaks nationally and internationally on neurology and the science of veterinary acupuncture.

Imke Tratsis DVM, CVA, Certified Veterinary Chiropractor

Imke Tratsis studied veterinary medicine at the University of Leipzig (Germany) and the vetsuisse University of Bern (Switzerland). After graduating in 2009, she then worked in large animal and mixed practice clinics. In 2013, Dr. Tratsis earned her degree in veterinary chiropractic and, in 2015, to increase the effectiveness of her work in this field, she started learning traditional Chinese veterinary medicine at the Chi Institute of Europe and, in 2017, received her CVA. Since 2015, Dr. Tratsis has been working in her own practice in the South of Germany with the main emphasis in TCVM and chiropractic. Here she treats mainly horses, dogs, and some cattle. Dr. Tratsis is the Germany CVA Director.

CVA PROGRAM OVERVIEW

The course begins with an overview of fundamental aspects of Chinese Medicine, including Yin-Yang and Five Elements theory, which serve as a foundation for case diagnoses and treatment presented later in the class. A variety of acupuncture techniques are taught, including electro-acupuncture, aqua-acupuncture, moxibustion, etc. in addition to conventional "dry" needling. Two track options are available: small animal and mixed practice (which includes both small animals and horses). In acupoint labs, students learn acupuncture points on dogs or both dogs and horses depending on the selected track.

Chi's hands-on acupoint labs and low student-to-instructor ratio ensure you gain the confidence to start practicing acupuncture after the first on-site session.

The course is presented in 2 online sessions and 3 hybrid sessions. Each hybrid session includes two portions: online & on-site. Online portions are comprised of lectures and case demos that students can stream at their own convenience. On-site portions give students the opportunity to learn acupuncture points on live animals in small acupoint lab groups of four to six students per instructor.

Class is limited to 20 students for an intensive & intimate learning experience
